

Coffee Details

Roast profiles + cupping notes:
Light: fruity, berry, blackberry
Medium: sweet, brown sugar, honey
Dark: nutty, brown spice, hazelnut
Espresso: nutty, brown spice, hazelnut

Impact: By purchasing this coffee you’re having a positive social, enviromental and economic impact on the producers and their farms. Below this sweet little paragraph will be some basic icons with text. Like “gender equality” or “environmentally responsible”

Why we love it: Of all the coffees we’ve tasted from Latin America, this one stood out among the rest. It’s balance of flavors, sweetness, and clean finish make it one of the best we’ve ever had. Even better is the story behind the coffee: a farm 100% owned and operated by 300 women who support their families and communities by producing delicious coffee.

Farm story: Founded in 2014, the association of Mujeres Cafeteras del Centro del Huila is 100% owned and operated by 300 incredible women who support their families and communities. As exceptional leaders in the coffee industry, these women not only produce the highest quality coffee, they combine their efforts to increase incomes and improve living conditions for all who depend on them.

Grower: Coocentral	Region: Huila, Colombia
Certification: Fair Trade	Elevation: 1,600 meters
Variety: Caturra, Castillo, Colombia	Moisture content: 11%
Process: Washed	Density: 0.7g/ml

